

The sun tells us nothing can live without God—not the plants, not the animals, not even you and me. God makes everything grow. His warmth fills our hearts, and His love shines on us every day.